Be prepared for your career.

- You have opportunities to obtain career-related experiences, through internships as well as class projects with real-world clients.
- Twice as many employers recruit here than at other schools our size.

70%

Students who have at least one internship before they graduate.

Miami is a key recruiting school for international firms like:

- Nokia
- Procter & Gamble
- Samsung
- Nestlé
- Ernst & Young
- Deloitte
- KPMG
- PricewaterhouseCoopers

BEST SALARY POTENTIAL

Miami University ranks 1st among public universities in Ohio for best salary potential after graduation and 42nd among the nation's top public universities.

BIG isn't necessarily better.

While Miami is a medium-size school, we have a BIG reputation for giving our students the kind of personal attention and career preparation that is harder to find at a huge university.

Here are some factors that set Miami apart from the those schools:

Student-centered

- Commitment to undergraduate teaching.
- Full-time faculty, not graduate assistants, teach 70% of undergraduate classes.
- 65% of undergraduate classes have fewer than 30 students.

Research opportunities

- More than 2,000 undergraduates work with professors on funded research, some as early as their first year.

Miami offers special resources for international students.

The Office of International Student and Scholar Services provides guidance to our international students. Highly trained advisers operate a comprehensive New International Student Orientation Program for all of our new international students. During this orientation, advisers help students learn about immigration rules and regulations, academic life and course registration, and campus and community resources. This guidance and support extends beyond orientation and is available for the duration of a student's time at Miami. Learn more at MiamiOH.edu/international.

The Office of International Student and Scholar Services can also help you connect with other student resources at Miami, including academic counseling, health services, student activities, and transportation.

The American Culture and English (ACE) Program helps some international students with TOEFL or IELTS scores slightly below our usual admission requirements improve their English skills while working toward their bachelor's degree.

In this program, you will:

- Receive conditional admission to Miami University.
- Earn 15 credits (one semester or five months) toward your university degree.
- Take one mainstream Miami University course outside of the ACE program.
- Live in a campus residence hall with American students.
- Participate in all aspects of university life.

To be considered for conditional admission through the ACE Program, you may follow the regular application processes. Applicants with TOEFL scores between 65-79 or IELTS scores between 5.5-6.0 will be automatically considered for the ACE Program.

Oxford

Weather

- Average of 24°C during June to August.
- Average of 1.1°C during December to February.

Cost of living in Oxford is reasonable

- Chicago is 20% more expensive.
- Los Angeles is 56% more expensive.
- Boston is 74% more expensive.
- New York City is 80% more expensive.

Airports closest to Oxford

- Cincinnati/Northern Kentucky International Airport is an hour south of Oxford in northern Kentucky.
- Dayton International Airport is an hour northeast of Oxford.
- Port Columbus International Airport is two hours northeast of Oxford.
- Indianapolis International Airport is two hours northwest of Oxford.

Uptown Oxford, right next to campus, has restaurants, shops, and a park where you can enjoy concerts and other activities.

Student organizations are an important part of university life in the United States.

Miami has more than 400 student organizations, including professional, social, Greek, cultural, community service, and spiritual. See a complete list at MiamiOH.edu/hub.

The Korean American Student Association picnic welcomes students to campus at the start of the school year.

Your life in the ideal student community.

Miami is a residential campus, which is an important way to connect with other students. In fact, almost all our first- and second-year students live on campus. Studies show that students who live on campus perform better academically, participate more fully in campus life, and because of this, are better prepared for their careers.

Where you live

As a first-year student, you choose a Living Learning Community (LLC) with a theme that interests you. Living with others who have similar interests not only connects you with lifelong friends but also gives you activities to participate in throughout the year.

Our LLCs have 33 different themes, including:

- International business
- Leadership
- Community service
- Arts

Many international students choose to live in the Global Connections Living Learning Community with American students who are interested in other cultures.

For more information about Living Learning Communities, go to MiamiOH.edu/llc.

Getting around campus

Miami's bus service, included in student fees, provides transportation around campus and the town of Oxford, including its stores and apartment complexes.

Miami promotes a safe environment

Miami offers many resources to promote student safety. The Miami University Police Department is a full-service agency whose officers patrol campus 24 hours a day and work in partnership with the Oxford Police Department. Residence halls are locked, and resident students have entry access with their Miami I.D. cards.

"Miami professors really encourage students to visit them during their office hours. With my finance professor, I often spend several hours with him, asking questions and writing practice answers for upcoming tests. I look forward to going to his class because he uses real life examples and makes jokes."

Admission to Miami University.

Admission procedures

During your final year in secondary/high school, you may apply as a first-year applicant. If you are already enrolled at a college or university, you may apply as a transfer applicant. Non-U.S. citizens or permanent residents should apply as international candidates. You can find more details about the application and admission processes as well as obtain the application forms online at MiamiOH.edu/apply.

Application requirements:

- Application (also available at commonapp.org)
- $70 application fee
- International Student Financial Support form
- Recommendation letter
- Official academic records
- Proof of English language proficiency
- Copy of Passport or National Identification Card

Test requirements

The SAT or ACT is encouraged but not required for international students. Students who submit SAT or ACT scores may be considered for additional scholarship awards (see the scholarship section on the following page for more information).

Proof of English language proficiency is required of students whose first language is not English. Miami requires a TOEFL IBT score of 80 or an IELTS score of 6.5 for regular admission. Students with slightly lower scores (TOEFL IBT scores of 65-79 or IELTS scores of 5.5-6.0) may be considered for conditional admission through Miami's American Culture and English (ACE) program.

Miami's institutional code for the TOEFL and SAT is 1463. The institutional code for the ACT is 3294.

College credit

Applicants who have taken Advanced Placement (AP), International Baccalaureate (IB) Higher Level, or GCE Advanced Level exams or who hold other select advanced secondary school credentials may be considered for transfer credit by Miami.

Find out more at MiamiOH.edu/ap-ib-credit.

Our most experienced and distinguished faculty teach introductory as well as advanced classes.

Dr. Donald Ucci

Chair of Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering

"As faculty, we want to help international students feel comfortable in a new country. All our students get a lot of personal attention, a lot of faculty contact. For class projects or research, students usually meet weekly with their faculty advisers.

"And every student has a departmental adviser, a faculty member who teaches in the student's program. We help our students develop their abilities."

You will interact with your professors and other students during our discussion-based classes.

Scholarships for international students

Miami's International Education Scholarship program provides renewable merit-based scholarships for outstanding international applicants. International Education Scholarship awards can vary from between $2,000 to $20,000 per year. Awards are made based on students' academic records and test scores as well as other factors.

In addition to the International Education Scholarships, all international students with equivalent U.S. grade point averages of 3.7 or higher and SAT scores of 1170 (Critical Reading+Math) or ACT scores of 26 or higher are also considered for merit-based scholarships. These additional scholarships can range from $500 per year to full tuition per year. The merit scholarship amount is determined by the grade point average, test score, and the strength of a student's curriculum. Go to MiamiOH.edu/merit.

Over 50 percent of the Fall 2013 international first-year students who were accepted by Miami University were also offered a scholarship. All students who submit complete applications for admission are automatically considered for the scholarships listed above. No separate scholarship application is required.
