

AMERICAN HERITAGE SCHOLARSHIP

In recognition of our heritage and long identification with Indians, Miami University established an American Heritage Scholarship sponsored by contributions of alumni and friends to the Miami University Fund. Preference in receiving this scholarship will be given to an applicant documenting his or her Indian ancestry.

With our University deriving its name from the Miami Indians and with a campus located on the same ground which was once a village of Miami's, we would be most pleased if the recipient of the American Heritage Scholarship were a Miami Indian.

It is anticipated that by combining the value of the American Heritage Scholarship with other forms of student financial aid that a student would attend Miami University with full tuition, fees, and room and board expenses paid by the combination of scholarship and financial aid. The amount of scholarship will vary depending on the amount of financial assistance the student is eligible to receive as well as the amount of money contributed to this scholarship account in the Miami University Fund. It is expected that some expenses will be paid by the recipient and his family including: personal expenses, books, travel, clothing, laundry, and health insurance. These items could amount to approximately $800 or more for the school year. All details regarding the value of this scholarship and other financial aid would be finalized before the student's entry to Miami University.

To apply for the American Heritage Scholarship, one needs to complete an application for scholarship, an application for admission, and a parents confidential statement.
